3 Unlocking Dictate+ Premium Features

To unlock all features of the app, including recording audio longer than 30 seconds, Dictate+ requires users to purchase a subscription.

This can be done in the Feature Unlock section on the main settings page. Follow the prompts to purchase your Dictate+ subscription.

Note: Feature Unlock is not a requirement of Pacific Transcription. We do not determine the pricing, nor do we receive any portion of the subscription sale.

If you come across the error on the right, it will likely be due to a recent password change and can be solved by changing your Pacific client account details in-app.

For security purposes, Pacific Transcription clients are required to change their secure client account password every three months.

(This is the client account where you log in to download your completed transcripts and letters. https://www.pacifictranscription.co.nz/clientarea/)

This means that every three months you also need to update your credentials in the Dictate+ app.

After logging into your secure client account on our website and updating your client account password, you also need to update your Pacific client account password in your Dictate+ app.
